

Server API

Sessions

A Client application establishes a connection to the Server and creates/activates a session within the Server. This session allows the Server to dedicate session-related information to a specific Client application. The following list of components can be used to determine and evaluate session-related information in a Server application.

- OpcSession
- OpcSessionDiagnostics
- OpcOperationContext
- OpcOperationType
- OpcOperationTypeReadOnlyCollection
- OpcRequestOperationType
